EZ SR series

New design and formula

The new SR series simplifies grinding and provides an increased efficiency. A new design and updated formula in one single, uniform tool series.

The new full SR series replaces HTC's previous SR and MR tools. The design of the new series is optimized for grinding with more space between the segments, the tools has an enriched formula for improved cutting performance and a longer life. The series contains a total of six tools and is used primarily in the HTC Superfloor™ process.

- Based on the latest resin technology
- Replaces previous SR and MR tools
- Simplifies the grinding process
- Increased performance
- Primarily used in the HTC Superfloor™ process
- Can be used for bot dry and wet grinding

What does "SR" refer to?

"SR" stands for Super Resin, which is a unique ingredient, found only in HTC's SR and BB grinding tools. The new and improved formula that contains Super Resin gives the tools their unique properties, which in turn brings economic benefits to the grinding contractor.
