

Diamond Xpress Series

- For dry grinding & polishing of natural stone & terrazzo

HTC Diamond Xpress is a grinding system specifically developed for dry-processing of natural stone such as marble, terrazzo and limestone. The specific formula and design also makes it a very good polishing tool for hard concrete floors.

No water - no slurry

By using Diamond Xpress you can now grind natural stone in the same way as you are grinding concrete. A perfect finish has never been so easy. Thanks to advanced diamond and composite technology, the system requires no water. This provides significant savings in personnel, equipment and management. By eliminating water, the grinding process can be completed in half the time and still, the end result is improved thanks to a higher gloss!

Fewer steps with Diamond Xpress

With Diamond Xpress, you can also reduce the number of steps in the grinding process and reduce or completely exclude chemicals. By complementing with our BBX2 tool from our Big Block series as a first grinding step, you can perform a complete dry-process grinding of your natural stone floor, using no water.
